EXHIBITION PROGRAM

THE DAYLIGHT MOON
Rosalie Gascoigne and Lake George

Until 22 August 2015 CURATED BY GLENN BARKLEY

*How can I show you the land I walk?
 You, who stands on pavements,
 Have never seen the wide place I know*

Between Goulburn and Canberra lies the spectacular landscape at Lake George where the colour of the land shifts and flickers under a big dramatic sky. Full of drama and air this landscape was of particular visual and symbolic interest to Canberra bases artist Rosalie Gascoigne. Lake George looms large in the artist's inner imaginings and her formal sensibility was partly honed through driving through the landscape on the search for materials – "Driving in the country was drawing for her..."

Lake George was a place she often came back to as subject and it appears with regularity throughout her oeuvre from the early Feathered Fence and Pale Landscape through to later panel works where the imagery and components are stripped down to geometric, worn fields of tonal grays, whites and silver as if lit by the "daylight moon", mentioned by poet

David Campbell and like the landscape too, her work has a spare intense sincerity.

The Daylight Moon is to be exhibited at goulburn.art REGIONAL GALLERY and will focus exclusively on the body of work made in response to Lake George and surrounds, highlighting the artist's close links to this space; its agricultural history and the elements of deep time, weather and geography that shape both the land and the artist sensibility.

Included works are presented across multiple disciplines and will include five new, commissioned works by Australian artists that will be developed and performed in Goulburn.
